JANE KENNEDY: FABULOUS FOOD, MINUS THE BOOMBAH

Eating Well (Minus the Boom-Bah)

By Jane Kennedy

Jane Kennedy has long been known for her radio and television career. But Jane can't eat anything she wants to. That's because she gets FAT. After having five children over six years, and trying every fad diet known to man in an attempt to shift excess weight, Jane decided to take matters into her own hands. In Jane's Kitchen, she shares the recipes that allowed her to lose weight and feel fantastic: meals for every day in the home, for entertaining, for nights when you simply feel like takeaway, and even some pretty deceptively delicious desserts.

100 AUSTRALIAN POEMS YOU NEED TO KNOW

Edited by Jamie Grant

Poetry? For today's readers? Yes, and not just for those who buy their poetry collections religiously either; this book is for everyone. Frustrated by the perception that Australian poetry is dry, inaccessible and focused only on the country's landscape, acclaimed poet Jamie Grant decided to form his own collection. One that properly encompassed the liveliness of our country's writing and showed that the only thing dry about its poetry was the humour within it.

GALLIPOLI REVISITED

In the footsteps of Charles Bean and the Australian Historical Mission

By Janda Gooding

The landing at Gallipoli has long been described as the moment that Australia proved itself as a nation; and in the ninety four years since the ill fated battle, the world Gallipoli has become synonymous with bravery, courage and the Australian spirit. This book shares the story of the Australian Historical Mission for the first time, tracing the steps from its formation through to their work in Gallipoli and the journey home again. Interwoven throughout is a thought-provoking exploration of the connections between art, landscape and history, and their lasting impact on the way Australians remember the 1915 ANZAC campaign.

KOKODA SPIRIT

By Patrick Lindsay

The Battle for the Kokoda Track is Australia's Alamo. In August 1942 Kokoda was a killing field. Today, it is hard to imagine what those young men endured for our freedom but the journey gives some clues. The track plays a leading role in the story of Kokoda. It is one of the world's most fascinating locations – at once an alluring, challenging obstacle of compelling beauty and yet a foreboding, perilous microcosm of life at its rawest and most savage. In Kokoda Spirit, Patrick Lindsay takes us on a journey that explores the track as it is today and how it was in 1942. With his unique storytelling he reconnects with the past and takes us on the gruelling journey that is Kokoda.

SALTS AND SUITS

The Inside Story of the Surf Industry

By Phil Jarratt

Phosphorescent Secrets is the amazing true story of how a group of young beach bums turned their passion for riding big waves into the world's fastest-growing leisure industry – surviving wipeouts, drug busts, rip-offs, recessions and the constant pressure to act and dress like grown-ups. Surfing's biggest brands have crossed the billion dollar threshold by thinking big and staying cool. Drawing on more than 200 interviews with industry figures and the idiosyncratic founders of the leading brands, Phil Jarratt details the long and bloody battle between the 'salts' and the 'suits' to control the industry. 9781740667401 • Hardback • 320 pp. • 16 Page Colour Section • 234 x 153 mm • World Rights • November 2009

THE GREATEST

By Malcolm Knox

From 1993 to 2008 the Australian cricket team reached the highest of heights. They won three world cups in a row and sixteen consecutive test matches. Legend after legend stepped onto the pitch: Mark Taylor, Steve and Mark Waugh, Adam Gilchrist, Glenn McGrath, Brett Lee, Ricky Ponting and, of course, the once-in-a-lifetime player Shane Warne. As Australia enters a period of rebuilding, The Greatest reflects on the golden age of Australian cricket. It revisits the key moments, major players and personalities, and important influences, match by match.

TRADITIONAL MOLVANIAN BABY NAMES

By Santo Cilauro, Tom Gleisner and Rob Sitch

In Molvania, names are more than mere labels. They are sacred offerings bestowed upon children by their parents – individual gifts that, like birthmarks, webbed toes and hereditary thyroid conditions, stay with their offspring for life. This selection of over 1200 girls' and boys' names includes many old favourites as well as others that were popular in the past but have now either been forgotten or deemed racially offensive by the European Union.

THE COCKTAIL

200 Fabulous Drinks

By Jane Rocca with illustrations by Kat Macleod

To the uninitiated, a drink is a drink, but connoisseurs know that each concoction has its own distinct character; each spirit its own essential joie de vivre. Gin bats its eyes behind a bookworm's glasses, whiskey scowls at passers-by from the kerb, and rum does a tipsy salsa with the barman.

COCKTAILS AND ROCKTALES

By Jane Rocca

The Southern Belle and the Karma Sip Tra. The Alabama Slammer and the Autumn Thunder. The Couture Fizz and the Vanilla Kiss. These are not just drinks, but statements of intent, says hard-sipping rock journalist Jane Rocca: accessories every bit as vital as shoes when you're planning a night on the town. What you think determines what you drink. Awash with recipes and dripping romance, Cocktails and Rocktales captures the spirit of every spirit. Learn about the warm companionship of vodka, the old-school primness of gin and the tropical abandon of rum. Drink in the geisha chic of sake, and discover why whiskey and its white trash cousin bourbon are no longer just a guy's best friend.

SPRING IN SICILY

By Manuela Darling-Gansser

Spring in Sicily is a magical season of abundant growth and fertility. Fruit trees and vines are in new leaf, wheat fields stretch to the horizon, wild flowers grow in profusion along the roadside and, at sea, tuna and swordfish swarm in anticipation of their annual migration. It is the perfect time to travel to Sicily and uncover its secrets. Although small, Sicily has a big reputation and a colourful history. Its prized position on the Mediterranean trade route has rewarded Sicily with centuries of invasion and the influence of its conquerors is still evident in its architecture, cuisine and daily life.

AFTER FIRE

A Biography of Clifton Pugh

By Sally Morrison

Born in Melbourne, Australia, in 1924, Clifton Pugh rose to prominence as a portrait and landscape painter, winning the Archibald Prize three times and an Order of Australia medal in 1985. Written in a sweeping, almost literary style, this detailed biography of Clifton Pugh is a landmark volume that offers an alternative perspective to the biography of Clifton's widow, Judith Pugh's Still Life (2008). Sally Morrison draws on archival research and interviews with Pugh's family and friends to create a picture of a man damaged as much by love as by war in his personal life, and at the same time a bold and innovative artist and environmentalist.

OLD GROWTH

Australia's Remaining Ancient Forests

By Peter McConchie

Australia's old growth forests are our greatest natural assets. Crucial to the maintenance of biodiversity and ecological functions, old growth forests often contain rich communities of plants and animals, species whose survival depends on the unique environmental conditions created by the forests. Tragically, these global treasures are being systematically destroyed, habitats incinerated, and threatened species killed. Old Growth is a collection of breathtaking photographs showcasing some of Australia's most beautiful – and most endangered – old growth trees. Equal parts tribute and call to action, Old Growth will inspire and have you thinking twice about the future of our forests and of the world at large.

PIXIE

By Andrea Mohr

Andrea Mohr's CV is an eye-opening read: madam, drug runner, hostess, money launderer, drug dealer and importer amongst other things. Alongside this was a glamorous life filled with travel, movie stars, and easy money. But the dark side of drugs and addiction eventually saw her sentenced to seven years jail for importing seven kilograms of narcotics to Australia. Andrea was sent to Deer Park, a women's prison, a violent, corrupt, mismanaged facility where there were more drugs inside than outside, and where her fellow inmates nicknamed her Pixie. Pixie is a frank and shockingly truthful account of a life filled with dizzying highs - with terrible consequences.

UNPARALLELED SORROW

By Barry Dickins

In early 2008, Barry Dickins suffered from insomnia. He went to the doctor, who cited anxiety as the cause and, then, depression. Clinical and severe. He checked in to the Albert Road Clinic, where he was told that he would be there until the joy returned to him. Written with Barry's inimitable wit, humour and lyricism - and his ability to find the ridiculous and the jubilant amid the pain - Unparalleled Sorrow charts Barry's journey from the lows of the clinic to the small joys of a game of tennis with his young son. It follows the path to depression - via his salad days in St Kilda and the murder of his housemate – and the road out of it.

CADEL EVANS

Close to Flying

By Cadel Evans and Rob Arnold

Cadel Evans is the story of how a softly spoken young man raced into an exciting world of opportunity, how he survived the demoralising exploits of artificially enhanced rivals and how his new-found popularity has enabled him to raise awareness for issues such as cycling safety. Cadel Evans ended the 2008 season as the number two cyclist in the world, but this book is not just about winning, it is about how much a gifted, articulate, interesting and honest athlete can get out of the ride of life.

THE FUTURE OF CRICKET

The Rise of Twenty20

By John Buchanan and Andrew Dawson

John Buchanan, the record-breaking former coach of the Australian Cricket Team and now coach of the Kolkata Knight Riders in the IPL, gives an insider's account of the development and launch of the tournament that may forever change the face of international cricket. The rise of Twenty20 always promised change, and Buchanan traces the shift from the ODI format through to the Twenty20 World Cup and announcement of the IPL. What forces were at work and why the loss of support for the ODI format and country vs country cricket? Buchanan also charts the rise and rise of the Indian power brokers and how they have come to be in such a dominant position.

ALL THAT HAPPENED AT NUMBER 26

By Denise Scott

'I'll never forget the first time John and I saw number 26. We just knew it was going to be ours. It was so awful and ugly and repulsive in every way, not to mention the fact that it was located in a suburb I had sworn I'd rather die than live in, that we knew we had a great chance of getting it.'

And so Denise Scott moved into number 26, with a husband, his circus equipment, a king-sized futon (but not a base), a Ventolin inhaler (to cope with stress-induced asthma), no savings to speak of and their newborn baby. The life that Denise and her husband John created in their ramshackle house is one of warmth, humour and good old-fashioned ingenuity. Written with Denise's trademark candour, All that Happened at Number 26 is part memoir, part stand-up and completely beguiling.

MR CRICKET

Driven to Succeed

By Michael Hussey with David Sygall

Cricket has been the heartbeat of Mike Hussey's life since the age of 12, about the time that he found it more comfortable to bat left-handed than right. He adores the game, analyses it, researches it and respects it. Described as Bradmanesque, Hussey is the fastest batsmen ever to reach 1000 Test runs, and he certainly knows a thing or two about how to put willow on leather. Packed with jaw-dropping facts, figures and photographs, Mr Cricket is the unputdownable story of Mike Hussey and the essential cricket companion for 2008.

DYING TO KNOW

By Andrew Anastasios

We're all dying. Sooner or later we're going to croak, kick the bucket, give up the ghost, cash in our chips, shuffle off, bow out or go to our happy hunting ground. It's the one thing we all have in common. Yet no one seems to want to talk about it. Well, Dying to Know does. Don't be misled. Dying to Know is not a book of answers. Just ideas, insights, advice and quirky information about a subject none of us can escape. Read it, and then rush back into the daylight and get on with the more challenging matter of living.

FROMELLES

The Story of Fromelles and the Discovery of our Diggers' Final Resting Place

By Patrick Lindsay

On the night of 19 July 1916, over 2,500 Australians died in the darkest day in Australian military history. However, thanks to a British cover-up, most Australians have never heard of the battle of Fromelles. Worse still, over 160 Australians went missing, and have never been seen since. New evidence in this book sheds light on where these soldiers are suspected to have been buried, and in an enthralling mix of detective story and passionate historical retelling, travels from Canberra to London to the killing fields of northern France in his quest to honour our fallen, and unravel one of the greatest unsolved mysteries of World War I.

BEYOND SACRED

Recent Painting from Australia's Remote Aboriginal Communities

The Collection of Colin and Elizabeth Laverty

Beyond Sacred: Recent painting from Australia's remote Aboriginal communities is a comprehensive, visually stunning survey of recent Aboriginal art. Ranging across Western Australia and the Northern Territory, from the well-known art centres of Papunya and Utopia to the lesser known communities of Maningrida and Bidyadanga, this book tells the story of Aboriginal art and its growing presence in the contemporary art scene. Strikingly illustrated and lavishly produced, Beyond Sacred: Recent painting from Australia's remote Aboriginal communities features more than 250 paintings and drawings.

Works are featured from internationally renowned artists such as Rover Thomas, Emily Kngwarreye and John Mawurndjul as well as from newer discoveries such as Alma Webou and Christine Yukenbarri. It is a major survey of contemporary Aboriginal art in Australia and will inspire the experienced collector and novice alike.

1001 SONGS

The Great Songs of All Time and the Artists, Stories and Secrets Behind Them

By Toby Cresswell

1001 Songs tells the stories behind the best and most popular songs of the last century. It reveals background facts that will fascinate and intrigue, biographical information on each performer and also boasts a guide to the definitive and the oddball covers of songs. The book also features over 400 show-stopping, full colour, rarely seen photographs. Not bound by ranking, era or album, 1001 Songs is presented just like an iPod: the songs are completely mixed up and random. Toby Cresswell was the editor of the Australian Rolling Stone magazine from 1985 to 1992 and has his own publishing company which publishes a variety of award-winning music magazines such as Juice. He has produced national music shows and written for MTV and the ABC and is one of Australia's leading commentators on popular arts and culture.

JUDAS KISSES

The story behind the face of Donna Carson

By Donna Carson and Debbie Ritchie

Judas Kisses is the inspiring true story of one woman's fight back from the brink.

In 1994 Donna Carson was set alight by her de facto partner. She suffered horrific burns to 65% of her body and was not expected to survive. Compounding her ordeal, social services stepped in while she was recuperating and took her two children away. Donna has since made a full recovery and is now a tireless crusader for victims of crime and burns victims around Australia. Her story is one of betrayal – by those whom she most trusted and by government bureaucracies – but ultimately of triumph against all the odds.

SORTED!

By Lissanne Oliver

We all know that a lack of organisation and efficiency is costly, stressful and time consuming. Being organised is like having a well-serviced life. Things aren't "lost", paperwork doesn't pile up, (stressful) time isn't wasted trying to find things. Money isn't wasted on double buying items or replacing lost things. A place for everything and everything in its place also means having more time for the good stuff - spending time with partner or family, relaxing. The benefits are far reaching. In Sorted!, professional organiser Lissanne Oliver shares her solutions, tips and 'recipes' that she has garnered from years of organising people for a living. Turn over a new leaf and live more efficiently and effectively. Get organised! Whatever you do counts. Every small step contributes to a better quality of life.

THE MIGGY TREE

By Karl Yeomans

The Miggy Tree is a beautifully illustrated poem that is both quirky and eloquent and full of love. The prose is complemented by a set of exquisite illustrations that whisk us away to the magical, whimsical world of The Miggy Tree. The Miggy Tree was written by Karl Yeomans as a gift for his mum, Margot, more affectionately known as Miggy, to celebrate her 50th birthday. In 2006, when Karl was only 33, his life was tragically cut short by a malignant brain tumour. Shortly after his death his wife, Julie Buxton, decided to bring this wonderful poem to life as a beautifully illustrated book and a precious gift for their two year old son Marlow and his grandma, Miggy.
